

ABSTRACT

Shelf stabilizing agents including hydrolyzed protein, hydrolyzed protein derivatives, and hydrolyzed protein-emulsifier complexes improve the shelf life of a pelletized grain protein-based resin formulation. The pellets may be prepared well in advance
5 of further processing, such as by injection molding and extrusion, which provides shaped articles of the edible or biodegradable variety.